"Professionals involved in family law matters must have continued education and training. This annual conference is very important to every person in family law practice," he said. "To to be asked, by the association and our peers, to head up this conference is quite an honor."

LACFLA President and FDS member Attorney Leon F. Bennett will be joined by FDS members Warren Sacks (CPA), Dr. James Walton (Ph.D.), Professor Kevin Chroman (Attorney) and Stephanie Maloney (CDFP) as presenters. Professor Chroman and Ms. Maloney are co-chairs of this year's program.

"We have an excellent series of seminars lined up for those participating. I have met with Professor Chroman and Ms. Maloney. They have worked hard to bring a suite of experts to the panels this year. I know those attending the conference are going to come away with extremely valuable information," Mr. Sacks said.

The conference is not just for attorneys. Anyone who has to deal with family law in the Golden State will find useful information at this conference, he said.
